under advisement a writ of garnishment against the county for Willie Hoda et al, a county employee. The writ was taken by Russell Finance Co., Inc., and was for $420 awarded the firm in Circuit Court, Beat 3 Supervisor Johnson Shaw observed that the bank held an assignment on Hoda's check for $257.28 and asked of the possibility of being able to include a garnishment.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Latour of Pearlington were informed by the supervisors that because of a previous policy adopted by the board, a sublease on 16th Section Lands could not be honored, but that the party originally leasing the land could undertake a personal agreement with another party concerning the leasing of the lands.

Favre explained the board had voted not to sublease or lease any more of the former school lands after the supervisors signed a long range timber and reforestation program with the state, but added that on any Waveland Town Council was forced to hike its millage an additional two mills to meet the requirements of the 1959-1960 budget adopted at Tuesday night's meeting. The town will operate on 16 mills for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1.

The City Commission Council of Bay St. Louis last week upped its tax rate 1 1/4 mills to finance school construction.

Board Attorney Dan M. Russell Jr. explained that millage for the general fund was reduced from 10 mills to 9 1/2 but the bond and interest sinking fund would have to be increased from 4 mills to 6 1/2 mills to take care of the $26,000 street improvement bond passed by the previous board.

According to the new budget, compiled by the town auditors, Moore and Powell of Biloxi, $16,000 must be raised by tax levy in the bond and interest sinking funds as compared to $9,277.28 required last year. A total of $23,407.12 is required for the tax levy in the general fund, while $23,158.95 was needed last year.

Other fund allocations are approximately the same as in 1958-59. The new budget includes a $2,000 allotment for the proposed remodeling of Town Hall after completion of the Waveland School lunchroom addition.

Council discussed the possibility of the complete city planning with Joseph S. Horan of Carter-Horan, planning consultants of Baton Rouge.

Horan explained the federal government would pay 50 per cent of the cost for a comprehensive study. He estimated the cost for Waveland at $8,000; $4,000 to be paid by the town and $4,000 by the federal agency. He said federal funds were obtained through the State Agricultural and Industrial Board and advised the aldermen to pass a resolution.

about the results of a formal complaint placed by Gaudet and J. T. Prowell in July concerning the overgrown land between their property. Secretary C. O. Dufour reported the owner of the property could not be located and state law require he be notified before the city could clear the land.

Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Harrison were assured by council that the need for an additional fire hydrant outlet on Harrison Street would be investigated.

Reject Housing Insurance Bids

Notice of bids for fire, extended coverage and public liability insurance for the 18 housing authority dwellings on Balentine Street will be readvertised, George E. Heitzmann, executive director, said Thursday.

On instructions from district headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., bids will be received for one-year policies instead of three as advertised last week, he said.

Only two bids were received at the opening Tuesday night and were rejected because of the change to a yearly basis, Heitzmann said. The amount of the bids or bidders were not disclosed.

Hancock Bank Has 60th Birthday Friday

Sixty years ago tomorrow Hancock Bank with Peter Hellwege as president opened its doors for business. At the end of the day's business its books showed a profit of 27 cents and total resources of $18,337.41. That was on Oct. 9, 1899. On Oct. 6, 1959, its total resources were $30,241,090.87.

The present president, Leo Seal, has been with the bank for 40 years, including 27 as president, but Mrs. Ruth Cazeneuve has him topped by ten years, having celebrated her 50th year with the bank in July, 1959.

During its growth and spread to other cities the Hancock Bank's home office has remained in Bay St. Louis.

After 48 Hours at Sea

Treat Sinking Victim Here

"My boat went down at 3 a.m., Monday and I grabbed a floating butane bottle and hung on to it until I floated onto Chandeleur Island sometime Wednesday."

So related John Edward Larry of Escatawa, near Moss Point who spent approximately 48 hours in the waters of the Gulf of Mexico and then walked 25 or 30 miles to the northern tip of the island.

Larry, a professional fisherman who captained the Bessie Lee, a 47-foot boat owned by Mr. and Mrs. William Moody of Escatawa, was rescued when he was able to attract the attention of three New Orleans fishermen after walking and crawling to the north end of Chandeleur Island.

The fishermen, Dean Van Horn, Dr. Anthony L. Pittari and Joseph M. A. Caravalls jr., took Larry, who was suffering intense pain from Man-O-War sea urchin stings, to the Conservation Station at Grand Isle Pass. James N. McConnell, chief of the division of oysters, water bottoms and sea food for the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries commission, brought him to the Hancock County Hospital about 2:30 p.m. Wednesday.

An unidentified Negro deckhand from Gulfport who was helping Larry on the fishing boat has not been seen since the vessel

St. Joseph's Elects Fast Way with Voting Machines

St. Joseph's Academy chalked up a number of firsts last Friday afternoon when it elected high school class officers with that surefire for precinct officials, the voting machine.

It marked the first time this product of the electronic age had been used in a school election in Mississippi as well as in Hancock County. It also marked the initial occasion on which the results of the balloting were known just as soon as the last voter pulled the key on the candidates of her choice.

The machine was made available to the school by Joseph Colson of Waveland, state agent for voting machine manufacturer. He explained the principles of its operation to the students, pointing out the automatic levers used by the voter to record his selection. While Hancock County voters waited several days in some instances last August to learn the results of their first primary and election officials toiled into the early hours, it was a matter of pushing the button and it's all over at St. Joseph's.

Colson is planning to give a public demonstration of the equipment in Bay St. Louis shortly. He added there are 36,000 voting machines in operation across the nation.

Election by the process at St. Joseph's were:

Hancock County's traffic lights installed as a safety measure on U. S. 90 at the intersection of the Klin road and at Main Street backfired when three non-fatal wrecks occurred there this week, according to reports from Highway Patrolman William Kenny and Fred Curren.

Two accidents occurred within 24 hours at the intersection of Main and 90. Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Byrd of Jasper, Texas, were admitted to the Hancock County Hospital with neck injuries after their 1956 Mercury was struck in the rear at 9 a.m. Wednesday by a 1951 Ford driven by David Keller, Negro, of Gultport. Both autos were headed east when Byrd stopped for a red light. Damage to both cars has not been estimated yet.

Mercantile Firm Moving

Bay Mercantile Co., one of the oldest established businesses in the community, is moving its main operation to Gulfport, Henry W. Osoinach jr., proprietor, reported this week.

He has leased facilities there at 1407 26th Ave. and is planning a grand opening in the new location about Oct. 15.

Osoinach said he will continue to operate the local store at Beach and Main Street for the time being and will retain the Western Union agency here. He said he has been contemplating the move for the last year.

Bay Mercantile was established some 80 years ago by the present owner's grandfather, John Osoinach, operating first at a site on the Beach between Hooker and Sycamore Streets, later moving adjacent to the Merchants Bank and subsequently to the building across the street. The present building was erected in 1952. Henry Osoinach sr. operated the firm from 1929 until 1946 when the present owner took over.

Osoinach, who has been active in civic and church affairs and currently serves as president of the Coast Council of Chambers of Commerce, plans to continue residing here with his family.

Negro Held In Assault On Police

Charlie Mitchell, local Negro formerly of New Orleans, was sentenced to serve a total of 150 days in the county jail on four counts of assault and was bound over to the grand jury on two others Monday by Justice of the Peace, Nolan Ladner.

The charges were the result of an incident Saturday at the Phillips 66 Service Station, Hancock and Sycamore Streets. City Police Chief Alcine E. Sauder and officer Jack Ladner were injured slightly when the Negro, armed with a piece of 3/8-inch water pipe about 20 feet long and a fan belt, resisted arrest and threatened the officers, Sauder said. Other arresting officers were City Policemen Latham Garriga and Deputy Sheriff Leonard Ladner. Police were summoned because of an alleged family disturbance.

Mitchell was bound over to the grand jury on charges of assault and battery with a deadly weapon and threatening the lives of police officers. Bond was set at $1,500 on each count. He was sentenced by Judge Ladner to serve 60 days for resisting an officer, 30 days for disturbing the peace, 30 days for using obscene language and 30 days for destroying county property when he broke a window in the county jail.

In two cases set to be tried before JPs next week Bernard Bourgeois is charged with assault and battery by Powell Glass jr. Bourgeois is alleged to have assaulted Glass in Waveland last July 25 and again near Lake-

The Weekly and Editorials

Reprinted below from The American Press is a survey made of Ohio weekly newspapers concerning their policy of running editorials. A minority of Ohio weekly papers carry editorials. Since this paper agrees with the minority, it is glad that is Mississippi the majority have local editorials.

To us, it also seemed interesting that none of the majority group of editors and publishers in Ohio is quoted by name whereas those who publish generally permitted their names to be used. This proves nothing, but furnishes food for thought in an idle moment.

By TED CONOVER

A cursory examination of 151 typical Ohio weekly newspapers reveals some interesting facts concerning the place of the editorial in community newspapers in this state. Of the 151 newspapers inspected by this writer as a part of a project for a course at the School of Journalism, Ohio State University, 83 had no editorial page or local column of comment, while 68 contained columns or editorials.

Among the smaller weekly newspapers in Ohio that were examined the great majority made no attempt to provide an editorial page or editorial column.

What do the editors themselves say about the value of the editorial page in their newspapers? Why does a majority of the editors of the approximately 119 Ohio weekly newspapers (or 42% of the total number published in the state) with circulations of less than 1,500 bypass the editorial page?

Why do those editors of the smaller weeklies who are devoting valuable time and limited space to editorial efforts feel that their efforts are necessary? How do they overcome the difficulties encountered and how have their editorial efforts benefited their newspapers?

To find the answers to my questions I have gone to the editors themselves.

When asked if he published editorials regularly, Bill Sonneborn, of the Greenwich Enterprise-Review, replied, "I believe it's an editor's responsibility."

William M. Campbell of the Pemberville Leader elaborated on this idea that it is the editor's responsibility to publish editorials. He said, "It is a doctor's duty to care for the health of his community. It is the editor's duty to keep active the healthy growth of the community itself, to stimulate the desire for progress and success in the people of the community."

Accepts Responsibility

Both F. S. Dungan Jr., of the Orwell News Letter and Philip J. Brunskill of the Anthony Wayne Standard, published at Waterville, said that the readers have great interest in local editorials and that they look for them. Besides, added Mr. Brunskill, "The editor enjoys writing them."

Editors are not unanimous in accepting editorial responsibility. One editor wrote, "My columns have been a material factor in arousing business men to establish another paper in this town (population 3,000). What more can I say? Is there freedom of the press?"

Another editor made the following statement: "Our publication is a small newspaper of four pages in a small community of about 1,100 people. We are depending upon all local advertising due to geographical location and neighboring dailies which absorb all out-of-town advertising and are circulated heavily in our community."

Readers Don't Expect Them

"We are, therefore, cautious in what we say since we cannot afford to lose even one regular advertiser. That is, we must try to persuade or understand the advertisers before we come to conclusions or try to persuade on the merits of our opinions. Neighboring papers, both daily and weekly, have discontinued editorials, except for some 'canned' types. Our readers do not, therefore, expect editorials regularly."

Is there an answer to the position that editorials are a hazard and not worth the financial risk?

A good example of the way in which one editor of a small weekly, published in a town of about 1,000 population and surrounded by high-powered competition, has used the editorial page to his advantage can be found at Seville, Ohio. Lee Cavin, publisher of the Seville Chronicle, is faced with this competitive situation: there are four large weeklies and a daily published within 10 miles of Seville, plus a daily, and the metropolitan dailies of Akron and Cleveland.

"I believe editorials are the small weekly's only hope of individuality in a tight competitive field," said Editor Cavin. "We sell strong in the face of close superior competition."

The Chronicle has a circulation of 1,012 in a town

From Our Files By Gone Days

10 YEARS AGO

Oct. 7, 1949 - The City tax levy was reduced one-half mill by the Commission Council of the City of Bay St. Louis in regular session this week. The reduction brings the levy from 46 to 45 1/2 mills for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1950.

"We feel if it were not for some $23,000 still outstanding on the debt incurred by the previous administration and for payment of which the council has appropriated a levy of 2.5 mills, the levy could be reduced by some three mills," J. Cyril Glover, commissioner of finance, said. The debt inherited by the present administration was about $65,000.

25 YEARS AGO

Oct. 5, 1934 - W. P. Bridges, state director of Mississippi, spoke in Bay St. Louis Monday under auspices of the mayor and board of City Commissioners explaining the Housing Act passed by the recent session of Congress, pointing out that many of the outdated huge houses on the coast could be remodeled into charming duplex or double houses thereby becoming revenue producers instead of consumers as at present.

Mrs. Jeanette Carmichael has been named local chairman for the Better Housing Campaign. Serving on the general advisory committee are Charles B. Mollere, Arthur A. Scafide, Dr. James A. Evans, Joseph R. Scharff and W. L. Bourgeois.

of 963.

As a result of Cavin's journalistic acumen, village officials conduct open meetings. "No executive sessions," says Cavin. "The newspaper is respected."

The Chronicle is an eight to 12-page tabloid and Cavin maintains a strict rule against any advertising on the editorial page. All material on the page is written by the editor and his wife except a small syndicated cartoon.

Some editors claim they cannot afford to use space in a small paper for editorials. The Cavins do. They run a full editorial page every week regardless of the news situation, and it is paying off for them.

William Campbell of the Pemberville Leader offers a suggestion concerning the problem of editorials and their effect on people which in turn might help or hurt the financial status of the newspaper.

He suggests: "Build your style by reading everything on psychology and motivation you can get."

"You can soothe them into complacency or you can jar them into action. A lot of people resent being jarred. You'll receive a handful of vindictive letters and hundreds of compliments," Campbell says.

"My editorial page is in demand by advertisers but they, except in rare instances, can't get an ad on that page. I do occasionally, when pushed for space, run a utility or a bank ad, on the editorial page."

The most pointed advice offered to those editors who are too timid to risk offending advertisers or readers by writing editorials was that of one editor who said:

"An editor who doesn't use editorials should get the hell out of the business."

My Favorite Prayer

GEN. L. LEMNITZER

Chief of Staff, United States Army

Almighty God, we make our earnest prayer that Thou wilt keep the United States in Thy holy protection, that Thou wilt incline the hearts of the citizens to cultivate a spirit of subordination and obedience to government, and entertain a brotherly affection and love for one another and for their fellow citizens of the United States at large.

And finally that Thou wilt most graciously be pleased to dispose us all to do justice, to love mercy, and to demean ourselves with that charity, humility, and a pacific temper of mind which were the characteristics of the Divine Author of our blessed religion, and without an humble imitation of whose example in these things, we can never hope to be a happy nation.

Grant our supplications, we beseech Thee, through Jesus Christ our Lord, (George Washington's Prayer for the Nation).

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM CHARLES SCARBOROUGH

Miss Favre Becomes Bride Of William Scarborough

Miss Hilda Jane Favre became the bride of William Charles Scarborough at a double ring ceremony at 10 a.m. Saturday at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with the Rev. Adrien Mercier as celebrant.

Arrangements of palms and white blossoms decked the altar for the occasion and a program of traditional wedding music was provided by Prof. Joseph Hemmerbach, organist, and Mrs. Paul Leguans, soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Louis Favre and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Alton Scarborough, all of Bay St. Louis. Escorted by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of Chantilly lace and silk illusion, the fitted bodice designed with a neckline cut to follow the design of the short lace sleeves and the bouffant full-length skirt of illusion with an inset banding of lace which formed a long flounced train. A tiara encrusted with seed pearls held in place her fingered veil of silk illusion. She carried a missile and beads topped with a spray of fleur d'amour.

Mrs. Arthur Ward of San Antonio, Tex., was matron of honor for her sister while Miss Janet Ann Trapani was bridesmaid and little Michael Reineke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Reineke was junior bridesmaid.

The attendants wore identical dresses of rose pink nylon chiffon in waist length. The fitted bodices with bias folds formed Sabrina necklines. The skirts were full with cummerbunds at the waist. Their fitted head bands of chiffon leaves were trimmed with flowers in rose pink nosegay veils and they carried crescent-shaped bouquets of American Beauty colored carnations.

Mr. Scarborough was best man for his son with A. J. Chinnich as groomsman and the bride's brother, Michael Shawn Favre, as junior groomsman. Ushering were Raymond Strong, the groom's cousin, and Anthony Lolicano.

A reception followed at the Knights of Columbus Hall which was decorated with arrangements of palms with ivy and white gladioli and mums. A cutwork embroidered cloth covered the bride's table which was centered with a four-tiered cake topped with the traditional bride and groom figures. A matching cloth was used on the punchtable which held a crystal bowl flanked with crystal candelabra.

Mrs. John Hall, aunt of the bride, cut the cake, while Mrs. W. T. Johnston presided at the punch bowl. Assisting in serving were Mesdames Charles Flink, Ernest Strong, Frank Trapani, George Anderson and Miss Inez Favre.

When the couple left by motor for a wedding trip to Jacksonville, Fla., the bride was wearing a sheer wood sheath dress in muted tones of blue and mole shades with a dark natural ranch mink hat, black accessories and a corsage of white roses at the shoulder. They will be at home at 1315 W. Capital St., Jackson, where Mr. Scarborough is stationed with his business.

Among those from out of town attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E. Strong of Hattiesburg, Mrs. John Hall, Mrs. H. Warden, both of Pascagoula; Mrs. Robert Geary, Mrs. B. Orice Ladner of Nacaise Crossing was assured that a previous agreement entered by him and his mother-in-law, Mrs. William Spiers, would be binding between the two, according to the board, since the property was originally leased to Mrs. Spiers and she had entered into a personal agreement with Ladner.

sank. Larry expressed little hope that the youth would be found, saying that he did not see the boy after the boat sank.

"I don't know what happened to the boat. It just trembled all over and when I looked, water was pouring in so fast that a two-inch bilge pump wouldn't take care of it. Within five minutes, the boat stood up on its stern and sank," Larry said. "I left Moss Point last Friday to fish and when the boat sank, we were approximately south by west of Chaudet Light house in 14 fathoms of water.

"The last time I had anything to eat was Sunday," he said with a wry grin, "but I'm doing all right here at the hospital.

"I just hope they find that boy," he added.

Larry has lived on the Gulf Coast almost all his life, coming originally from Alabama. He works as a fisherman and sells his catch to a Pascagoula firm.

He is being transferred today to the Pascagoula hospital, according to Dr. A. K. Martinovich Jr. The physician said that oddly enough, Larry was not suffering from sun burn, one of the most common ailments of persons rescued at sea. "Larry was well conditioned to the sun from his work and this saved him a great deal of pain," he said.

Threescore Years

Radium had just been discovered by Pierre Curie and his associates in Paris. The Spanish-American War, the winning of which had made the United States a world power, had ended in a peace treaty. The Czar of Russia had called a Universal Peace Conference at The Hague. Solomon August Andree, a Swedish explorer, had left Dunes Island, Spitzberger, in a balloon for the North Pole.

A. J. McLaurin was governor of Mississippi. Gulfport was incorporated as a city in 1898, founded to become Mississippi's gateway to world commerce and the key to the state's industrial development.

On October 9, 1899, the Hancock Bank opened its doors for business at Bay Saint Louis. For threescore years now it has served the financial needs of the Mississippi Gulf Coast, and in the diversified development of this growing area has been identified with every major project for the improvement of the community and the prosperity of its people.

It has seen industries increase, payrolls multiply, resort facilities expand, farming diversified, highways and bridges constructed, and a quickened public interest in a State Port for Gulfport in the service of Mississippians.

To better serve the financial needs of the community, Hancock Bank opened offices in Pass Christian in 1902, in Gulfport in 1932, with banking quarters for the convenience of its customers provided in Northeast Gulfport and Long Beach, and will observe its 60th Anniversary by opening a new bank building in Mississippi City in October.

We who have worked together for the upbuilding of the Mississippi Gulf Coast for sixty years need not be ashamed of our record of community achievement.

There have been many ups and downs, at least four panics or depressions, and countless disappointments and setbacks, but we constantly seek and attain higher ground to grow in strength.

As the Mississippi Gulf Coast reaches maturity, the years that lie before should be rewarding. As we look into an exciting future and gain momentum, we rededicate this bank to the increasing usefulness of those who have for so long identified themselves with our common purpose, to promote the well-being and the commerce of an area so rich with promise.

It Pays to Buy
where you Live

When you buy in YOUR OWN town, you get about the same merchandise you'd get anywhere else — PLUS the enjoyment of these other things that your money pays for.

When you buy anywhere else, you get merchandise ONLY. And your home community is a little poorer because you carried off part of its resources. ## Artigues Makes Lone Rock-A-Chaw Score

A band of rebels from Nicholls High in New Orleans marched through St. Stanislaus Stadium Friday night and brought home an 18-6 victory.

The Rebels, led by a speedy, tricky Frenchman, halfback Nolan LeBlanc, were high for this game and it was one of those occasions when everything they tried seemed to click. The Nicholls stands were packed to capacity with a 100-piece band, dancing, cheerleaders, strutting fawn twirlers and cheering spectators from New Orleans.

Nicholls kicked off and after a series of plays Artigues got off a beautiful punt that rolled to the Rebels' one yard line. Some excellent runs by Oscar Wible and Nolan LeBlanc brought the ball up to their own 28 where they were forced to punt. The first break came when Terry Lader, playing a bang-up game, broke through and blocked the kick. Stanislaus recovered on Nicholls' 10-yard line. Artigues moved the pigskin to the Rebels' 4 but a 5-yard penalty for backfield in motion brought it back to the 9. A fourth down pass from Lotacano to Artigues in the end zone looked good but Ronnie was unable to hang on to the elusive pigskin.

The Rebels took over but Stanislaus held and they were forced to punt. On the play the Rock-A-Chaws were penalized 15 yards for roughing the kicker and Nicholls regained possession on their own 34. Lader threw Prestonback for a loss. A penalty for backfield in motion moved the ball back to the Rebels' 27 where Wible punted to the Stanislaus 44. On the next play Artigues broke clear on an off-tackle play and scooted 56 yards for the only Stanislaus TD. He was chased all the way by one Rebel who couldn't get up enough speed and tried an unsuccessful flying tackle on the 10-yard line. Artigues' kick for the extra point was blocked. The score came in the second quarter.

Nicholls took the kick-off and immediately started rolling. Twice LeBlanc broke clear for potential touchdowns but was hit from behind by Kimball and Bourgeois but one run was good for 50 yards putting the ball on Stanislaus' 21. A series of short gains moved it to the 2 from where Jerry Prestonback went over to tie the score 6-6. The kick was blocked.

Artigues took the kick-off on his own 20 and raced 29 yards to the 49 before being stopped. Kimball went for seven and Lotacano made the first down on Nicholls' 40. With fourth down on Nicholls' 29 Lotacano tried a long pass to Artigues but big end Freeman slapped it down to gain possession. LeBlanc was stopped by Jacob. Two passes were broken up. Wible being thrown for a 14-yard loss. After a couple of penalties Wible punted and Caceres returned to the Rebels' 35. With less than a minute in the half Lotacano took the air but couldn't click. With seconds remaining the Rock-A-Chaws executed a brilliant fake pass, Lotacano drawing most of the Rebels far back of the line of scrimmage while Kimball headed for pay dirt with the pigskin but was stopped on the 4 two seconds before the horn blew. With the score tied both teams came back strong in the second half. Nicholls received but was stopped on their own 30. A running play was smothered so they took to the air and a pass from Thomas to Prestonback was good for 15. Another pass was broken up by Kimball. LeBlanc was stopped again by Bourgeois and Van Closky but on the next play the sturdy Frenchman picked up his own fumble and broke away for a 50-yard TD run. An end run for the conversion was no good.

Stanislaus received and with some fine gains by Artigues, Kimball and Babin, moved the ball to the Rebels 34 where they took over. Nicholls powered the ball down to the Rock-A-Chaws' 22 where they took over on downs but the Rocks couldn't get going and punted on their own 38 and Nicholls took the ball on their own 29. The Rebels again marched down field but the Rock-A-Chaws, led by Lotacano, Bourgeois, Gernard and Cleveland made a tremendous goal line stand and took over on the 2. With fourth down and a half yard to go, the Rocks gambled and lost when they were penalized five yards for offside. Nicholls declined the penalty and took possession on Stanislaus' 15. Cleveland immediately threw Thomas for a five-yard loss but two plays later LeBlanc skirted his own end for the final score. Artigues was hurt on the play but was able to walk off the field. The kick was blocked by Lotacano.

With seconds left the Rock-A-Chaws took to the air and a mighty TD pass was attempted by Lotacano to Artigues but was broken up. Lotacano took a shovel pass from Loberano and danced down the sideline for 20. On the next play with first and ten on Nicholls' 30, Stanislaus' fumble was recovered by the Rebels to end the game.

Friday night the Rock-A-Chaws meet McGill of Mobile, last year's city champions and Coach Reuben Ruiz, waiting about his lack of reserves and the fact that some of his best boys were injured in the Nicholls game, has a dismal view of the contest.

FISHIN' TIME--W. A. Ricks of New Orleans and a Waveland summer resident uses an aluminum rod with spinning reel and shrimp for bait in an attempt to catch trout but only catfish would take the line he said.

MYF Juniors Feted at Roast

The junior high group of the Methodist Youth Fellowship started its program Friday night with a wieners roast on the church lawn to welcome boys and girls entering from the junior department.

Attending were Hank Osolnach, Billy Kimbrell, Caple Clark, Linda Hamilton, Billy Pitcairn, Billy Chevis, Jane Ellison, Bob Whitfield, Doty Estapa, Tommy Humphreys, Max Stone, David Smith and Harry Sharruck.

Doty Estapa and David Smith were hosts for the fellowship supper Sunday night in the educational building when the MYF covenant and motto were presented and the MYF fund explained.

McGill is run by the same brothers as Stanislaus and is a traditional game.

"They have a big squad, about the same as Nicholls, Tommy Caps, 210 pound, 6 foot 2 full-back is the boy to watch. Also, shift quarterback Cottrell. Both are 3-year lettermen and carry the offense as far as the backfield is concerned," Ruiz says.

"Our greatest handicap is lack of reserves and we are additionally weakened by injuries. Pete Bourgeois, Priour Leary and Charles Genard, all first string men, were hurt in last week's game and we don't know whether they will be able to play. They were hurt early in the Nicholls game and were sadly missed. Incidentally, Nolan LeBlanc, who scored two touchdowns against us last Friday, was named player of the week by Charles Gaudin in the New Orleans States."

Shoulda Gone Fishin'

BY EDDIE ENGELHORN

Both good and bad reports on fishing were received this week. The tides favored fresh water anglers and green trout are being taken in the Jordan River on both artificial and live bait although heavy rains didn't help the situation.

One of the tried and true methods of snagging the wary bass (a member of the perch family according to Mr. Webster) during the fall season is trolling with a small spoon followed by a black gnat with a small strip of pork rind attached to the hook. This rig has been used in local waters for many years and has probably accounted for more of the fighting, luscious gamesters than any other type.

Hunting reports have been scarce, most shotgun toters preferring a little cooler weather, but conditions have been favorable for those who stalk the rodent. Rains dampened the ground enabling the hunter to walk quietly without warning the game of his presence by walking on dry, crackling leaves. The less active hunter, however, prefers to lean against a likely looking tree and wait for the squirrels to feed on acorns and nuts on the ground.

Plenty of shrimp are available for those who sling a cast net at night and it appears to us that more reports of good shrimping are received during rainy, squally weather.

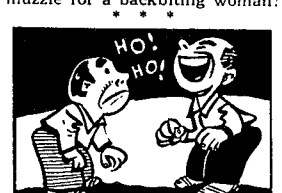

Mackerel, rat reds, sheephead, speckled trout, flounder and channel mullet are being taken along the bridges, the rock pile in front of the American Legion pier and other favorite spots in the Bay. Roe mullet are beginning to show up and anybody with a few nets can catch all the crabs he wants in a couple of hours.

With high early morning tides this weekend should provide plenty of sport and food for salt water anglers, but don't forget your license.

Charles A. Breath, Jr., says he hasn't wet his line for some time but has seen several successful anglers returning from "up the Jordan" proudly exhibiting their limit of green trout.

STRICTLY FRESH

Has anyone ever patented a muzzle for a barking woman?

Difference between a wit and a joker: a wit is what the joker thinks he is.

Donald Cuevas made his first cast of the morning about 6 a.m. Monday along the railroad bridge and wound up with several specks, flounders and four dozen fat crabs.

Joe Taconi caught a bucket of shrimp over the weekend off the Municipal Pier. He also saw his first roe mullet of the year.

Vincent J. Lagrove saw about 40 people shrimping off the highway bridge Monday. He mentioned it to the bus driver who said he had seen people there for the past four or five nights. They were east of the draw. Vincent also reports reading that a fish was tagged and released in the vicinity of Japan and turned up on the California coast. "Quite a trip for a little fish," he says.

Buddy Nicholls, between pops of a snappy shoe shine rag, said he supplied all his friends with choice marine delicacies caught over the weekend. "The best fish around here are gaff-tops and I don't give them away," Buddy says.

He is a graduate of William Carey College in Hattiesburg.

Tigers Romp to Fourth Win, Gird for Long Beach Tussle

The speedy, powerful, hard-fighting Bay High Tigers proved their worth again Thursday night as they romped to a fourth straight win, 33-7, over Harrison Central in a football game played at the stadium here.

The lads from Bay High now have four straight wins under Coach Lancelotti and have scored 98 points in their four games. This week they will engage in a tussle with the Long Beach team, which is expected to be a tough opponent.

When the Tigers got possession of the ball again they moved into scoring position but Harrison's line held and they took over on downs and immediately tried to kick out of danger. The kick was short and the ball was downed on their own 35. After an incomplete pass Peterson was thrown for a loss and the Tigers punted. Then little Ikey Snyder, Harrison back, snagged a good pass and might have run the length of the field but Billy Watts came from nowhere and slammed him to the turf with a thud. Bay High's Milton Bernard intercepted a pass as the half ended.

Harrison moved the ball into Tiger territory in the third period on a series of short passes and bucks but the threat ended when Watts leaped, intercepted a pass and sprinted to Harrison's 40. On the next play Watts broke away and headed for pay dirt but was downed on the 10. Two plays later Peterson went for another TD and Mayfield added the extra point. Harrison took the kickoff and with a penalty for clipping lost the ball. The Tigers again headed for the end zone, Bobby Van Calsem carrying the ball over. The kick was no good.

Harrison received on their own 14 and returned the ball to their own 35 but after a penalty for clipping the Tigers regained possession and two plays later had another touchdown. Harrison received again and despite
